October 26-27, 2023

How Do You Like Them Apples?

OACRAO

Welcome...

Dear OACRAO Colleagues and Friends,

As we gather together for our annual conference, I am filled with pride and gratitude for the dedication that defines both this organization and our profession. These past few years have brought unprecedented challenges, yet the commitment of our OACRAO members has shone brightly. While other professional organizations have struggled, OACRAO has thrived, thanks to your unwavering membership and active involvement. You have adapted, innovated, and continued to serve your institutions and students with steadfast resolve.

Our conference theme – "How Do You Like Them Apples?" – embodies this spirit of continuous learning and improvement that has always been at the core of our work. Just as an orchard's seasons change, our profession constantly evolves, offering new challenges and opportunities. At this conference, we celebrate not only our resilience, but also our shared purpose. We guide students on their academic journeys and shape their personal and professional futures. These are not small tasks, and they are a testament to the significance of our work.

I encourage you to embrace this theme as a call to action. Let us seize the opportunity to learn from one another, explore new ideas, and embrace change as a means of growth. Together, we can continue to make a difference in the lives of students across Oklahoma and beyond.

Thank you again for your commitment, dedication, and passion for our profession and this organization. I eagerly anticipate connecting with you during this conference and witnessing the incredible strides we will continue to make together.

Sincerely,
Stephanie Baird, Ph.D.
2022-23 OACRAO President

Breakout Session III 2:50p-340p

Surviving SIS Conversions & Upgrades (Bartlesville)
Presenter: Sofia Almeda, University of Texas Rio Grande Valley University Registrar
  During a student information system upgrade or conversion, so much emphasis gets placed on the journey between Point A and Point B, which typically represents the substantial technical work that has to unfold. However, too often Point B is thought of as Go-Live – and that's an inaccurate interpretation in most cases. Come see where Point B really lies, and what you should consider as you near the end of the more technical components of a system upgrade or conversion. UTRGV uses Banner but the experiences and lessons learned that will be shared in this session can be applied to other SIS types as well.

We'll discuss the Five Phases of Digital Transformation - not everyone needs every phase. Normalized, clean data supports faster decisions. And once we have clean data, compliance is easy. Even if that data is handwritten, Grooper now has AI-enabled OCR that makes all data usable. We'll discuss what's possible now that AI has become mainstream with examples relevant to Higher Education.

How to Attract and Retain Transfer Students (Trimble)
Presenter: David Cook, DegreeSight Founder and CEO

Traditionally, transcript evaluations have been a lengthy and exclusive process, often causing frustration for students, and are time consuming for staff members to evaluate. However, with the rise of first-time freshmen arriving with prior credits, this evaluation is no longer limited to transfers. Credit Calculator is an innovative tool that provides quick and informed feedback to students when they need it most. Join us for a conversation about how registrars, enrollment professionals, and students are loving the experience of a Credit Calculator. Don't miss out on discovering how the Credit Calculator is revolutionizing higher education.
